Faculty Development Programme on

“IMPROVING TEACHING METHODOLOGY & RESEARCH”

19 – 24 December 2016 at CIME, Bhubaneswar

The Problem:

Teaching is an art. Any faculty member – may it be in the domain of engineering, management, or pharmacy has his/her own style of teaching and subject knowledge. Over the years, teaching methodology has been changing drastically. Many places, use of technology blended methodology with high depth of knowledge are becoming integral parts of teaching and research works. Traditional method of teaching is no more acceptable by the new generation learners. Due to lack of sufficient number of faculty members leading to more work loads, absence of mentors, lack of proper incentives, lack of fund for research, etc. – research works in many places are not coming up to the mark.

The faculty development program to be organized by BPUT during 19-24 December 2016 at CIME, Bhubaneswar will address the above mentioned issues in detail.

The Issues:

- Traditional and New Methods of Teaching
- New Tools and Techniques in Teaching
- Research Methodology
- Industry-Academia Integration
- Motivating Faculty Members for taking up Research
- Project Formulation Techniques
- Funding Agencies and Norms
